INTRODUCTORY.

It is with pleasure that this, the third edition of the TEXAS STATE GAZETTEER AND BUSINESS DIRECTORY, is presented to the public. Since the first inception of the Gazetteer it has been the constant aim of the publishers to supply their patrons with a publication as near perfection as it is possible to bring works of this class. No efforts have been spared to secure the latest and most complete information in each department. Every improvement has been added that ripe experience could suggest, and a review of its varied contents will show that in point of accuracy and completeness, and in typographical and mechanical finish, it equals any of its class, and adequately represents the commercial and manufacturing interests of this important and progressive State.

This edition presents numerous valuable improvements in detail over its predecessors. The miscellaneous portion, pages 49 to 106, containing a descriptive sketch of the State, lists of State and County Officers, Terms of Court, with names of Judges,etc., a Bankers' Directory of Texas, all State Institutions, with location and Officers, useful selections from the Statutes relating to Commercial Laws, a register of all Postoffices in the State, with Money Order Offices, County Seats, etc., plainly designated, as well as valuable statistics of the State at large, shows an increase of 20 pages over last issue, and will be found of great value to all who have occasion to refer to it.

Following this, from pages 129 to 1065 will be found a list of all postoffices in the State, with a description of the geographical position of each, leading business interests, nearest accessible shipping point when off a railroad, nearest bank location, religious and educational advantages, and other useful facts regarding the place ; this is followed by an alphabetical list of all persons engaged in business there supplemented by a voluminous classified Business Directory comprising lists of all trades, professions and pursuits, with names and postoffice address, compiled and arranged under the heading to which each belongs. The Planters' and Farmers' Directory of Texas, occupying pages 1369 to 1712 is an important feature, and gives the name, number of acres and postal address of all farmers and planters in Texas, arranged alphabetically by counties.

No material used in any previous edition has been embodied in this issue of the work. Everything, both as regards business data and descriptive matter, has been procured anew without regard to the enormous expense thus entailed. The sketches have been carefully re-written and much additional information added. The classified portion, which exceeds that of Volume II by 72 pages, has been arranged with great care, embraces many new headings, and shows a far more complete and valuable list than has before appeared. In the preparation of the work the publishers have been materially aided by those who have kindly furnished needed information, and to these they desire to return their sincere thanks. The fourth edition of the work will be issued in due time, in which still further improvements will be honestly and energetically attempted, and every effort made to make it a complete epitome of the business interests of the State.

INTRODUCTORY.

It is with pleasure that this, the third edition of the TEXAS GAZETTEER AND Business Directory, is presented to the public. Since the first inception of the Gazetteer it has been the constant aim of the publishers to supply their patrons with a publication as near perfection as it is possible to bring works of this class. Every improvement has been added that the experience could suggest, and a review of the varied contents will show that in point of accuracy and completeness, and in typographical and mechanical skill, it equals any of its class, and adequately represents the commercial and manufacturing interests of this important and progressive State.

This edition presents numerous valuable improvements in detail over its predecessors. The miscellaneous portion, pages 49 to 108, containing a descriptive sketch of the State, lists of State and County Officers, Terms of Court with names of Judges, etc., a Directory of Texas all-State Institutions, with Section and Officers, extracts from the Penal Code relating to Commercial Law, a register of all Postoffices in the State, with Money Order Div. and County Seats, plainly designated, as well as valuable tables of the State as a whole, above an increase of 50 pages over last issue, and will be found of great value to all who have occasion to refer to it.

The Business, from pages 109 to 1068, will be found a list of all postoffices in the State, with a description of the geographical position of each, freight and express facilities, nearest accessible shipping point when on a railroad, nearest bank location, railroad and substantial advantages, and other useful information regarding the place; this is followed by an alphabetical list of all persons engaged in business there supplemented by a voluminous classified Business Directory comprising lists of all trades, professions and pursuits, with names and postoffice addresses, compiled and arranged under the heading to which each belongs. The Statistical Gazetteer Directory of Texas, occupying pages 1289 to 1712 is an important feature, and gives the name, number of acres and population of 6,000 towns and places in Texas, arranged alphabetically by counties.

No material used in any previous edition has been embodied in this issue of the work. Everything, both as regards valuable data and descriptive matter, has been procured anew without regard to the enormous expense thus entailed. The sketches have been carefully re-written and much additional information added. The classified portion, which exceeds that of Volume II by 72 pages, has been arranged with great care, embraces many new headings, and shows a far more complete and valuable list than has before appeared. In the preparation of the work the publishers have been materially aided by those who have kindly furnished needed information, and to these they desire to return their sincere thanks. The fourth edition of the work will be issued in due time, in which still further improvements will be sought and conscientiously attempted, and every effort made to make it a complete epitome of the business interests of the State.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

LOCATION AND EXTENT.

This great State—great in area, great in natural advantages, great in present prosperity, great in future prospects, grand in its early history, its noble defense against the Mexicans when it was an independent Republic, greatest in much that is noble of any State in the American Union—is located in the extreme southwestern part of the United States, between the 26th and 36th parallels of north latitude and the 94th and 106th meridians of longitude. It is bounded on the east by the State of Louisiana, west by the Republic of Mexico and the Territory of New Mexico, north by the States of Colorado and Arkansas and the Indian Territory, and on the south by the Gulf of Mexico. General custom has divided the State geographically into five parts, namely, Central, Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western Texas, though the dividing lines are not well defined. The vastness of this State will be better understood by the statement that it has an area of 250,004 square miles of land and 2,510 square miles of water surface, the latter consisting of lakes and bays, making a total of 252,514 square miles, equal to about 8.7 per cent. of the entire area of the United States and Territories. It is much the largest State in the Union, being six times larger than New York, seven times as large as Ohio, and 100,000 square miles larger than all of the eastern and middle States, including Delaware and Maryland. Compared to the countries of Europe, it has 34,000 square miles more than the Austrian Empire, 62,000 more than the German Empire, and nearly 70,000 square miles more than France. Eight hundred miles from east to west and 750 from north to south is another measurement of the imperial State of Texas.

EARLY SETTLEMENT.

Texas, although called a new State, is now over two centuries old. On the shores of Matagorda Bay, February 18th, 1685, landed a band of white men. About one year later, on March 20th, 1686, the first organized effort was made to establish a colony; a number of monks from the monasteries of Spain established a mission on the banks of Lavaca river. These missions, which were of a semi-military character, were soon established from the mouth of the Rio Grande into what is now California. To these hardy, zealous monks from Catholic Spain, then, belongs the honor of making the initial efforts towards the civilization and settlement of the Lone Star State of to-day.

ADMITTED TO THE UNION.

The Province of Texas—the "Lone Star Republic," so called because of her banner bearing but a single star—after enjoying for about a decade of years a freedom won upon many a bloody field, became the State of Texas in 1848 by being admitted to the Union.

TOPOGRAPHY.

The topography, like many other characteristics of the State, is but little understood, except in a general way.

The country lying east of the 96th degree of longitude, and north of the 30th parallel of latitude, and known as "East Texas," is characterized by a long range of hills running in an irregular line from northeast to southwest, and containing large deposits of brown hematite iron ore. It is also marked by a heavy growth of timber, consisting principally of forests of pine, oak and hickory.

The Gulf Coast is thus described by Prof. Loughridge, of the United States Census Bureau:

"The coast of Texas presents features different from those of any other State, for while in many other States the mainland coast is greatly cut up into large bays, extending many miles inland, it is here bordered by an almost continuous chain of islands and peninsulars (the latter having the same trend as the islands). The Gulf border of this chain is a very regular line southwest from the mouth of the Sabine river or lake to near Corpus Christi, which occupies the highest point on the entire coast, and thence turns with a regular curve south and slightly southeast to Mexico."

The territory east of the timber region and north of the Gulf Coast, as above outlined, is a vast open plain composed of gently rolling prairies and gradual elevations. It is covered with a luxuriant growth of native grasses and dotted by an occasional mott of timber, and extends to the Red River on the north and the mountain ranges of the west and northwest. The water courses and ravines are usually fringed with a growth of hackberry, ash, elm, cottonwood, pecan, walnut and the various oaks.

West and northwest lie the hills and mountain ranges of the State, which are continuations southward of the mountains of Mexico, New Mexico and Colorado. In the extreme northwest, bordering Kansas on the south and New Mexico on the west, is the elevated table land formerly known as the Llano Estacado or Staked Plains. It is now designated as the Panhandle of Texas, and destined to be one of the best agricultural and stockraising sections of the State. On a line north of Austin and San Antonio, and running in a southwesterly direction, there is a low range of hills that mark a change in the topography of the country. Westward it is more broken and the elevations more abrupt. The valleys are broad and the lands very fertile.

POPULATION.

The State census of 1887 shows a population at that time of 2,015,032, a gain of 423,283, or 26.59 per cent., since 1880. At the same ratio of gain the percentage of increase in population from 1880 to 1890 would be about 38 per cent., and would give the State a population of about 2,200,000 at that time.

While the gain in population up to 1887 is comparatively small, it is proportionately the largest in numbers shown by any State that has enumerated its population since 1880, as will be seen by the following statement:

TIMBER GROWTH.

The area of timber in Texas is much greater than it is generally supposed to be by persons not familiar with the country. By many people outside of the State it is regarded as a vast "treeless" plain, but this, like many other opinions of the State formed at a distance, is wide of the mark. In the prairie region the bottoms along the streams and ravines are skirted with timber, and in most places there is that happy admixture of prairie and timber land that so delights the heart of the farmer. Besides this, Eastern and Southeastern Texas is covered with a dense forest of fine timber, embracing nearly every variety grown in the South. Reports show that there are 35,537,967 acres of timber land in the State. This is short of the actual number, the reasons for which are stated elsewhere.

The "Cross Timbers" is the name given to two irregular belts of timber varying in width and entering the State on the Red river on the north and running in a southerly direction across the prairie region.

The "Lower Cross Timbers" runs from a point on Red river north of Gainesville, in Cooke county, south to the Brazos river, in McLennan county, a distance of about 135 miles, and has an average width of from 10 to 15 miles, interspersed at irregular intervals with small prairies.

The "Upper Cross Timbers" leaves Red river at a point farther west, passing south through Montague county, at the lower edge of which it divides, the eastern portion passing south through Wise and Parker counties to the Brazos river, the western veering farther west and extending south into Erath county.

The timber growth of the Cross Timbers is principally post and blackjack oaks. On the streams and lowlands ash, hackberry, pecan and cottonwood trees are found.

On the gray sand hills in Eastern Texas the timber growth is mainly scrubby post and blackjack oaks. On the black sandy land the timber is generally of the same kind but of more perfect growth. The red lands are covered with hickory, red and post oaks, with a few sweet and black gum and elm trees interspersed.

In Newton, Jasper, Tyler, Orange, Hardin, and parts of Sabine, Angelina, Trinity, San Augustine, Nacogdoches, Polk, San Jacinto, Shelby and Panola counties, long-leaved pine grows in great abundance.

Short-leaved pine, interspersed with hickory and the various oaks, is found from Bowie county on the Red River south along the eastern edge of the State, finally merging into the long leaved pine region. The area of the pineries, both long and short-leaved, is estimated at 25,000,000 acres, capable of producing 64,587,420,000 feet of merchantable lumber. Along the streams, especially the larger ones, walnut and ash timber is abundant. In the southern part of the State, near the Gulf, and west bordering on the plains, the live oak is a prominent growth. It is found singly or in clumps on the prairies and in the edges of the bottoms.

The mesquite is a tree found more generally in Western Texas than any other. It is a common growth on the prairies. A prairie with a growth of mesquite 6 or 8 years old resembles a peach orchard very much in appearance. The mesquite is a small, scrubby tree, and, according to Prof. R. H. Loughridge, is never found east of the 95th meridian. It has spread rapidly over the prairies within the last few years, and now furnishes firewood in many localities where a few years ago there was not a stick of any kind of fuel to be found. Cedar of stunted growth also forms a large part of the timber north and west of the Colorado River, and is usually found on the sides and apexes of the hills and mountains.

The pecan tree, which produces the delicious pecan nut, is found on nearly all the streams, but more abundantly in Southern and Western Texas, where there are numerous pecan groves in the valleys and on the uplands. Gathering and marketing the pecan crop forms no inconsiderable adjunct to the industries of that section. The pecan crop of 1887 was estimated at 9,000,000 pounds, valued at $540,000.

West of the one hundredth meridian the timber growth is very limited, being almost exclusively confined to the ravines and waterways until the outlying ridges of the Rocky Mountains are reached.

RAILROADS.

In 1881 there were 4,216 miles of railroad in the State, valued at $30,400,350, including rolling stock. In 1888 there were 7,927 miles, including 496 miles belonging to the International Railroad which are not taxed. The total value of the roads in 1887, including stock, was $55,779,318, or $7,506.30 per mile.

The increase in railroad mileage during the year ending August 31, 1888, was 344.07 miles.

From the above it will be seen that the railroad mileage in the State has increased 76 per cent., and the value of railroad property, 83 per cent., since 1881.

EDUCATIONAL.

There are now maintained in the State 7,793 public schools, of which 6,391 are for the white and 1,402 for the colored population. The number of children enrolled in school and receiving free tuition is 364,744, of which number 280,281 are white and 84,463 are colored. The number of children of scholastic age unable to read is 17,082, the number of white children coming under this head being 9,599; the colored, 7,523. The total scholastic population is 528,110.

THE COTTON PRODUCT.

The following record of the cotton production in the State since 1848 will show the steady increase in the acreage devoted to cotton culture:

Year.	No. of Bales.
1860	431,463
1870	350,628

Since 1880 the acreage in cotton has increased 49 per cent. and the annual production in bales 39 per cent.

The average production per acre in 1880 was .37 of a bale, and in 1887 .33, or about one-third of a bale. The difference in production was caused by the drouth of 1887.

The average price per bale farmers received for cotton in 1887 was $40.17, and the total value of the crop $45,127,676.33.

The cotton crop of 1887 has generally been estimated at 1,380,000 bales. This, however, is based on a different period of time from that covered by this report, and is approximately correct for the period embraced in the estimate.

THE WHEAT PRODUCT.

The acreage in wheat in 1887 was 520,219 05, and the total number of bushels raised 5,174,454.37. The average production per acre was 10 bushels, and the percentage of increase in annual production since 1880 has been 90 per cent., while the increase in acreage has been 25 per cent. The production per acre in 1880 was 6.8 bushels. The yield per acre in 1887 was, therefore, 3.2 bushels more than in 1880. While 10 bushels per acre appears to be a small yield, it is in fact very good, the average in the United States in 1880 being 12.97. The wheat region of the State lies in north and northwestern Texas, and would show an average yield of 15 bushels per acre, excluding from the calculation other sections where wheat is being tried and the western counties where the crop was totally destroyed by drouth.

The average price per bushel received for the crop of 1887 was 72¼ cents.

The acreage in gardens is 25,283, and the total value of the garden product $1,608,709.

THE CORN PRODUCT.

The increase in corn production per annum since 1880 has been 91.89 per cent., and the increase in acreage 18.65. It is a point of sufficient interest to note that while the increase in the acreage of cotton has been 49 per cent., or nearly double the percentage of increase in population since 1880, it has been only 18.65 per cent. in corn, or a little over one-half the percentage of increase in population. This fact accounts in a great measure for the importation of the 2,469,845 bushels of corn purchased by farmers in 1887. The drouth of 1887 lessened the production per acre, but it was still 19.03, or 8.26 bushels per acre more than in 1880. The amount or corn purchased was bought by farmers alone, as no account was taken of the number of bushels purchased in the cities and towns. It is assumed, therefore, that the purchases of corn made by farmers of each other was balanced by the purchases made by cities and towns, and that 2,469,855 bushels of corn were actually shipped into the State. Adding the number of bushels produced in the State to the number purchased we find that the consumption of corn in 1887 was 58,245,590 bushels. If, therefore, the farmers had planted 141,554 acres more in corn, enough would have been produced for home consumption, regardless of the drouth, which reduced the total yield in the State more than the amount of the difference between the amount raised and the amount consumed.

Had the increase of acreage devoted to the cultivation of corn kept apace with the increase of the acreage in cotton since 1880, the acreage in corn in 1887 would have been 3,678,194 acres, and the production at the same average per acre 70,989,143 bushels, or enough to have supplied the home demand, as shown by the amount actually consumed, and furnished a surplus of 12,743,553 bushels for exportation.

OATS, ETC.

The increase in the acreage of oats since 1880 has been 135 per cent., and the increase in annual production 175 per cent. The average number of bushels raised per acre was 24, and the average price per bushel 32 cents.

The following table will show the comparative acreage and product in 1880 and 1887 of barley, rye, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, sugar cane, sorghum cane and hay:

	Acres.	Product.	Acres.	Product.
Rye, bushels	3,326	25,399	35,907	50,009
Barley, bushels	5,527	72,786	11,570	172,989
Sweet potatoes, bushels	19,580	1,460,079	27,467	3,823,563
Irish potatoes, bushels	.....	228,832	6,834	680,737
Sugar cane, barrels	4,951	810,605	12,055	43,036
Sorghum cane, barrels	.....	432,059	26,259	44,399
Hay, tons	58,033	48,530	136,046	171,061

The acreage and production of the above named crops have increased from 100 to 200 per cent. since 1880.

MINERALS.

Coal.—There are two coal basins which contain workable seams of good bituminous coal, and a third which contains immense deposits of lignite. The first of the bituminous coal fields, which we call the Central Coal Basin, is the southwestern continuation and extremity of the Fourth Coal Basin (the Missourian) of the United States. It extends from the Red river to Burnet county on the south, and its western boundary, as far as determined, lies in Kimble, Menard, and counties lying north. It covers parts of twenty-five counties, and contains twelve thousand square miles of the coal formation. In this basin we find nine seams of coal varying from a few inches to three feet in thickness. Much prospecting has been done on these seams of coal, and the principal trouble has been not altogether in the thickness of the veins or quality of coal, but the almost universal prevalence of a parting of slate or clay in the seam, the separating of which made the cost of mining too great for profit, and which, if not separated, left the coal nearly worthless, or else the cost of getting coal to market was too great for profit. Some of the lower beds now being opened are either without this parting to any hurtful extent, or, if present, it is very easily separated. Among the principal mines we may mention those at Gordon and at and in the vicinity of Strawn, in Palo Pinto county, from which coal is mined and shipped in quantities to Fort Worth, Dallas and adjacent cities. Beside these mines there are many smaller ones open in various counties, which are used to supply local demands, as in Montague, Wise, Shackelford, Young, Coleman and others. The quality of these coals, where they have been properly opened and the body of the coal really reached, is very good, although in some instances they are rather high in sulphur.

The Rio Grande coal basin lies adjacent to Eagle Pass, and includes parts of Kinney, Uvalde and Maverick counties. Although its exact boundaries are not known as yet, we know that there are two or three seams of very excellent coal in it. The seams are thicker than those of the central basin (that which is worked now being four feet in thickness), and freer from sulphur. Recent analysis of specimens from this basin give it a most excellent composition. It is being mined at present only in one place, with a daily output of 100 tons. The coal is of later age than that of the central basin, and is lighter in weight, but is proving a good fuel.

The Lignite Basin.—While the lignites have not been utilized yet to any extent in Texas (with one exception), the vast amount of them which exist in this basin, and the urgent necessity of a cheap fuel with which to reduce the valuable iron ores which lie contiguous to them, render their use an absolute certainty and only a question of time. The formation covers parts or all of about fifty-two counties, extending across the State from the northwestern border to Webb county, on the Rio Grande. The amount is practically inexhaustible, as there are two seams known which vary locally from three to six and eight feet in thickness, and a third which is rarely less than four feet, and is often as much as fifteen and twenty. Much of it is free from sulphur, and several practical means of making it available will soon be submitted to the people.

The only mine being worked at present in this basin is the Santa Tomas, above Laredo, from which large amounts have been taken and used on the railroads and for heating.

Iron.—To the manufacturer of iron, Texas presents one of the most inviting fields in the world. The richness, variety and extent of the ores, the proximity of many of them to immense bodies of timber for charcoal, and of others to extensive beds of bituminous coal, their freedom from objectionable elements, such as phosphorus, certainly make their exploitation only a matter of a very short time.

The ores of the Lignite Basin are found throughout its extent, and consist of limonites and clay iron ores, which occur massive, honeycombed and laminated. They are of great richness (from 35 to 50 per cent. metallic iron), and practically free from phosphorus. The best beds, which are usually nearly horizontal, occur at or near the top of the knobs or hills, and have for covering nothing more than a bed of gray or light-colored sand. The thickness of these beds is variable, being from one inch to four feet, and even greater in places. A number of furnaces have been erected to work these ores, but only those at Rusk are now in operation. The iron produced is of a very superior quality for car wheels and any castings requiring a chilled surface. Other furnaces are now under contract and will probably be built at once. Charcoal is the only fuel at present, and there is an abundance of wood to furnish the needed fuel, and limestone for flux is easily accessible.

There are some excellent ores found in the Central Basin, but no work whatever has been done on them.

In the Llano-Mason region, among the older formations, there are deposits of magnetite and speceular ores of great extent. These ores are of exceptional purity and equal to the best Swedish. They are found in several other counties, including Burnet, Blanco, Gillespie and San Saba.

In addition to these, there are deposits of good ore on the Rio Grande, in the Trans-Pecos region, fully equal to those of either district mentioned.

Copper.—As is the case with several other deposits, we have three distinct copper districts. The northern district, comprising the Permian of Hardeman, Knox and other counties, contains a large quantity of drift or float ore. It is found entirely as separate masses, no real vein or continuous deposit being known; and while there are occasionally pockets containing considerable amounts of ore, and the aggregate is really a large quantity, it is so widely scattered that it cannot be made available by ordinary methods of mining.

In the central of Llano district the copper occurs in well defined veins in considerable quantity. The ores are grey and peacock copper, and almost invariably carry gold or silver, or both. A considerable amount of prospecting has been done here and some ore mined, but everything is now quiet, waiting for transportation facilities.

The ores of the Trans-Pecos region are being actively prospected and worked. Specimens which have just been received from the geological surveying corps, taken from the various mines now in operation, consist of very fine grey copper, azurite, etc., some of which are high in silver. The silver in the grey copper occurs native, and some of the specimens which have the wire silver through and through them are especially beautiful as well as rich. Black oxide of copper is also found among the specimens of copper sent in.

Salt.—Abundance of salt is found in salines, salt wells, salt lakes and beds of rock salt. It is manufactured or dug for local consumption at many places over the State, and at Colorado a company is engaged in its manufacture and sale. A bed of rock salt of good quality in Van Zandt is now being investigated.

Gold and Silver.—These valuable metals are found associated with the lead and copper ores of Central and Western Texas. Gold is also found in small quantities in some of the creeks of Llano county, and in large amounts in those of the west. It is also reported from various other sections of the State, two or three of which are now being investigated. At Shafter, in Presidio county, a mine is now being worked for silver, which has already produced a very large amount of bullion. Other parties are now engaged in opening another mine in its immediate vicinity.

Lead.—Galena is found in moderate quantities in Llano and Burnet counties, but the work so far done in it has not developed anything of special value. The formations, however, are of the same age and character as those which contain the Missouri lead ores, and a further search may have better success.

The lead ores of the Trans-Pecos carry variable amounts of silver, and are being worked in the Quitman and other districts. The ore is smelted at El Paso (with perhaps one exception). Fine specimens of many of these ores have just been sent in by Prof. Streeruwitz, geologist for West Texas, and are now being assayed.

Gypsum.—These beds, perhaps as extensive as any in the world, are found over a large part of that section commonly known as the Abilene Country, and extend as far north as the Canadian River. All varieties and qualities are found, but no extensive use has been made of it since the stoppage of the plaster of paris works at Sweet Water some years ago.

Marble—The lower silurian rocks of Burnet, Llano and San Saba counties contain very good marbles of various shades of color—white, black and clouded. Granites suitable for building and other purposes, also abound in these counties. The cretaceous rocks which extend over a large portion of the western and northwestern sections of the State, being mostly limestone, have large beds of rock suitable for building purposes, and these have been extensively used in building in Austin and other cities and towns of the State.

Clays.—In potters' clay, fire clay and kaolin the State is abundantly rich. The lignite basin contains large deposits of potters' clay, fire clays, and kaolin, much of which is of as good quality as can be obtained anywhere. Experiments made with clays from different counties prove that we have grades suitable for the manufacture of all varieties of pottery from the coarsest earthenware to the finest porcelain. The kaolin from Edwards county is of great purity and well suited to the manufacture of the finer grades of china, as is also that found in Robertson county. Both of these clays have been tested practically and proven a success. Many localities could be given for the coarser clays, but they are so plentiful that an enumeration of even a part of them is hardly necessary.

Fire clay is also abundant, but little use is being made of it. Brick clays of good quality are found in almost every county.

Hydraulic Limestone.—This material has been experimented with very successfully, and cement of fine quality produced from it. The material itself is very abundant, but only one or two factories are at present engaged in working it.

Glass Sands.—Valuable deposits of sand suitable for glass making are found in many counties, as well as large deposits of flints, which can be used for the same purpose.

COMMISSIONERS OF APPEALS.

Presiding Justice—Edwin H. Hobby, Livingston.
Associate Justices—W. E. Collard, Franklin; Walter Acker, Lampasas.

The Supreme Court has appellate jurisdiction only in civil cases of which the district courts have original or appellate jurisdiction. Causes are heard from the several districts at such times as the judges, by an order published previous to the meeting of the court, may direct.

The Court of Appeals has appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases and in civil cases of which the county courts have jurisdiction, except cases originating in justices' courts, wherein the judgment rendered or fine imposed by county court does not exceed $100.

The Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas, created by act of March 30, 1887, is a commission of arbitration and award, having power to hear and pronounce award in all civil causes that may be referred to it from the Supreme Court, upon consent of parties filed in writing. The award of the commission becomes the judgment of the Supreme Court. Cases may also be referred by the Supreme Court to this Court without consent of parties, the award to be subject to adoption of the Supreme Court.

The District Courts have jurisdiction of all suits affecting the State, and all questions relating to the title to lands or the foreclosure of mortgages and other liens thereon, all suits for divorce, for slander or defamation of character, and all other suits where the demand is for the value of five hundred dollars and upwards. They have appellate jurisdiction and general control over the county courts in matters of probate and original jurisdiction, and control over executors, administrators and guardians, and of suits to supply lost records. Inability to read and write disqualifies jurors in this court. In many counties the jurisdiction of the county court is limited to probate matters, and the district court, in such counties, has jurisdiction of all suits that would otherwise belong to the county courts.

The State is divided into forty-three judicial districts, the court holding sessions in and for each organized county of the State.

KEITH'S Detective SERVICE
AND GUARD

ED. S. KEITH, - Manager.

THIS Service has been organized to transact a General Detective business throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Only legitimate work undertaken.

We make search for missing witnesses, relatives, friends, heirs, debtors, wills and papers.

Gather information as to secret contracts, agreements and trusts. Look up evidence in both civil and criminal cases, undertake difficult collections, examine into the condition and value of properties, as well as the financial and moral standing of parties; correct and minute reports obtained as to the habits and expenditures of persons holding trusts.

To labor troubles we give particular attention. Having made this branch of work a special study for years, as well as having had a successful experience in handling such cases, we feel assured that we can give satisfaction to operators and others having need of such services.

For the guarding of mines, shops and other property during strikes, law suits and similar troubles, we are thoroughly prepared, and can furnish a large and well equipped force of trusty guards on immediate call.

We send operatives to any part of the world, and have paid employes and reliable correspondents in many of the leading cities of the United States.

At present, the main office of this Service is Denver, Colo., Rooms 17, 18, 19 and 20 Cass & Graham Block, corner Sixteenth and Curtis Streets; but it is our intention to make Chicago our headquarters some time during the year 1890.

In a city, town or village, it consists of a lot or lots not to exceed $5,000 in value at the time of their designation as the homestead, exclusive of improvements, provided the same be used as a home, or as a place to exercise the calling or business of a head of a family. The homestead is protected from forced sale except for taxes, or for the purchase money, or for improvements thereon, and in this last case, only when the work and materials are contracted for in writing, with the consent of the wife, given in same manner as required in making a sale of homestead. In case of the death of the husband, the widow and children have one year's support from the estate, and if the property exempt by law does not exist in kind, a sufficiency of the estate may be sold for cash, to raise allowance for homestead, not to exceed $5,000, and for other exempt property not to exceed $500. Any creditor having reason to believe such debtor has concealed his property, may have him summoned before a District or County Judge, and examined under oath, etc. Any attempted preference of one or more creditors shall be deemed fraudulent and without effect. Concealment by debtor of his property from assignee, or transfer of property previous to and in contemplation of assignment, with intent to defraud creditors, is made a felony.

JUDGMENT LIEN.—In Federal, District and County Courts, judgment is a lien on debtors' real estate in any county where an abstract of judgment shall be filed and recorded in a book kept for that purpose, in the office of County Court Clerk. Thus a note, payable at Dallas, may be sued on in Dallas county, though defendant reside in another county. This enables parties to concentrate their collections. The note may, on its face, be made payable at any bank of any county where defendant resides, and further stipulates, "if not payable at maturity, then the note shall become payable at ——," naming any other desired point.

RAILWAY COMPANY

Now Owns and Operates 5,670 Miles of Thoroughly Equipped Road in
MINNESOTA, IOWA,
MISSOURI and DAKOTA.

Each recurring year its lines are extended in all directions to meet the necessities of the rapidly populating sections of country West, Northwest and Southwest of Chicago, and to furnish a market for the products of the Greatest Agricultural and Stock Raising Districts of the World.

In Illinois it operates 316 Miles of Track, in Wisconsin 1,304 Miles, in Iowa 1,572 Miles, in Minnesota 1,122 Miles, in Dakota 1,216 Miles, in Missouri 140 Miles,

And the end is not yet. It has terminals in such large cities as

Chicago, Milwaukee, La Crosse, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Fargo, Sioux City, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo.

And along its lines are hundreds of large and small thriving cities, towns and villages. Manufacturing interests are cultivated, and all branches of trade find encouragement. The Railway Company has a just appreciation of the value of its patrons, and its magnificent earnings are the result of the good business tact which characterizes the management of its affairs.

The popularity of the line is attested by the fact that notwithstanding the strongest kind of competition of old and new lines, the CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL RAILWAY continues to carry the greater portion of all the business between CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS. It is the best patronized route between CHICAGO, COUNCIL BLUFFS and OMAHA, and to and from all points in WISCONSIN, MINNESOTA, DAKOTA and IOWA, and its KANSAS CITY AND ST. JOSEPH LINE will undoubtedly take equal rank with the older lines leading to and from the Southwest.

On all its through lines of travel the CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL RAILWAY runs the most perfectly equipped trains of Sleeping, Parlor and Dining Cars and Coaches.

The through trains on all its lines are systematically heated by steam. No effort is spared to furnish the best accommodations for the least money, and, in addition, patrons of the road are sure of courteous treatment from its employes.

OREGON

The great, new and flourishing State of Oregon offers to the immigrant more substantial inducements for settlement than any of the Eastern States, and to ignorance of its vast resources, the productive quality of its soil, and its mild, delightful climate, may be attributed the fact that so much of its area is still without cultivation. It is being rapidly filled up now, and a decade hence the value of its land and products will have more than doubled.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

Lying next to Oregon, is also one of the most prolific sections in the Great Northwest, and it is a matter of no small significance that its yield of Wheat, Barley, Flax and Hops for 1885 was nearly double what it was in 1884, and that the products brought a much higher price.

Oregon and Washington are the only two sections in the United States which produced full crops for 1885. See Government statistics.

It Will Pay Every Progressive Farmer

To examine into the advantages of Oregon and Washington, and even if you have no thought of changing your home, you should write to one of the undersigned for information, as you should not be ignorant of what this section can produce.

The Oregon Railway & Navigation Company furnishes facilities for reaching all portions of the country, and offers special low rates to immigrants. Write to

MOBILE, ALABAMA.

THE COLLEGE OF SPRING HILL is built on a rising ground, five miles distant from Mobile, and elevated one hundred and fifty feet above the sea level. It enjoys a constantly refreshing breeze, which renders its situation both agreeable and healthy. The surrounding woods afford the most pleasant summer walks. A never-failing Spring at the foot of the Hill, and within the College grounds, furnishes an abundant and lasting supply of water to a beautiful pond, where students may safely enjoy the beneficial exercise of swimming. Long experience has proved that, owing to its position, the College is entirely exempt from those disease which prevail at certain seasons in the South.

The College was incorporated in 1836, by the Legislature of Alabama, with all the Rights and Privileges of a University, and empowered to confer Academic Honors.

The public worship of the Institution is that of the Catholic Religion; however, pupils of other denominations are received; provided, that for the sake of order and uniformity, they are willing to conform to the exterior exercises of worship.

In the following section of the work the cities, villages and postoffices of Texas are arranged in alphabetical order, and a description is given of each place, with an alphabetical list of all persons doing business therein or receiving mail at that postoffice. In all the larger places the names have been procured by personal canvass, but in the smaller they have been furnished by postmasters. Great care has been taken to ensure correctness as well as completeness.

ABILENE. An incorporated city on the T.& P.Ry,203 miles west of Dallas,171 west of Fort Worth, and 445 east of El Paso, ranks among the most progressive and enterprising cities of the Lone Star State. Within the past five years it has become the judicial seat of Taylor county, which is situated in the very heart of the picturesque and fertile Abilene country, and surrounded as it is on all sides by huge ranches and well cultivated farms, its merchants find a ready market for wares many miles in extent. First settled in 1881, it contains Presbyterian, M. E., Baptist, Christian, Episcopal and colored churches, and one of the best high schools in the west, where pupils are graduated to enter the various business colleges or the State university; 1 steam roller flouring mill having a capacity of 200 bbls daily, a grain elevator with a capacity of 60,000 bushels, an ice factory, 2 cotton gins, 2 corn mills, 2 national banks—the Albilene National and the First National—both of which are sound institutions and a credit to the city. The fire department is one of the most efficient and creditable in western Texas, which is to some extent due to an excellent system of water works. Two weekly newspapers, the Taylor County News and the Abilene Reporter, are published; both are Democratic in politics and are ably edited and popular sheets. Two brick yards conveniently located supply the city with considerable of its building material, although a good quality of limestone may be found in close proximity. Masonic, Odd Fellows, K. of P. and other secret societies have tastefully decorated assembly rooms and a large membership. Adjacent to the depot one of the largest wool and commission houses west of Dallas have headquarters. Several land agencies, as the Currie, Hatch, Wise, Lambeth, Murray, Smith and others, contribute not a little to the upbuilding of Abilene and the Abilene country. Three hotels, the Texas & Pacific, The Hancock and the Commercial, are popular with the traveling public. The volume of business is remarkable in a city containing no more population, and is best shown through the last annual statement of the Abilene National bank, which was in round numbers $8,019,758.13. Cattle breeding is fast becoming an important industry, and the day of the small farmer is bright with future hopes. The soil is of a red sandy nature, or chocolate, and will produce per acre in wheat 20 to 35 bushels, oats 40 pounds to the bushel, and from 40 to 100 bushels per acre. The Abilene country is also a magnificent fruit belt, as its late exhibit at Fort Worth and premium list fully demonstrate. Improved land in the vicinity varies in price, but is usually held at from $5 to $15 per acre; unimproved, $3 to $10. City and county scrip sells at par, and but little bonded indebtedness exists. A $65,000 court house fittingly represents the bar and justice courts, and a $10,000 school building is now in process of erection. Stages daily to Anson and Ballinger; fares, $2.50 and $4, respectively. Population, 5,000. Tel., W. U. Exp., Pacific. Mrs. M. Morrow, postmaster.

The I. & T. N. and the H. & T. C. R. R's pass through here, and it is the terminus of the A. & N. W. Ry. The Colorado river furnishes a good supply of pure water, and the prospects are that it will soon be utilized for power with which to drive the wheels of machinery. The development of this power means the future prosperity of Austin. Already steps are being taken looking to the erection of a large cotton factory. In fact, several new manufacturing enterprises are in an embryo state. One of the great factors in the prosperity of the city is the Board of Trade, a corporation comprising in its membership most of the principal business men and property holders. Among the projects for the betterment of the city of Austin and Travis county is a fine system of country roads. The Board of Trade have in course of erection a handsome building, at a cost of about $30,000. It will also be headquarters for the Business Men's club. The city is the Athens of Texas, as the University of Texas, endowed with two million acres of land and $57,000; Texas Institute for the Blind, Texas Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, St. Mary's Academy, Stuart Female Seminary, St. Edward's College, Hood's Seminary, Texas Business College, Capital Business College and the Tillottson Normal and Collegiate Institute (colored), are located here. The system of public schools is first-class. The religious wants of the people are cared for by 19 different congregations, six of which are colored. The Capitol building, the pride of all Texas, erected at a cost of three millions dollars, is one of the finest structures of its kind in the world. The city now contains 4 banks, foundries, machine shops, ice factories, marble works, etc. The press is represented by the Dispatch and Statesman, both daily, and several weekly papers. The streets are wide and well paved, giving it, together with its fine business blocks, a metropolitan appearance, and indeed Austin is unquestionably the most beautiful city in Texas, its thoroughfares being a thing of beauty. It is lighted by gas and electricity, has an excellent system of water works, a well equipped and efficient fire department, first-class hotels, telephone exchange and all the appointments of a prosperous commercial center. The shipments comprise cotton, wool, hides, pelts and grain. Exp., Pacific and W., F. & Co. Tel., W. U. and Erie. Telephone connection with all surrounding towns. Population, according to estimate of last city directory, 25,053. John O. Johnson, postmaster.

BEAUMONT. An enterprising, rapidly growing, incorporated town, on the Neches river, and on the Southern Pacific R. R., at the junction of the S. & E. T. Ry, in the northeastern portion of Jefferson county, of which it is the judicial seat, 249 miles east of Austin, 84 miles east of Houston, 279 west of New Orleans, 183 northeast of Galveston and 30 north of Sabine Pass. First settled in 1830, it now contains Methodist, Baptist, Catholic, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches, besides 3 for the colored population, an excellent system of public free schools, including a $10,000 school building just completed, a bank, the First National, an extensive shingle mill, with a capacity of 175,000 per day, 3 large planing mills, 5 enormous saw mills, bottling works, a foundry and machine shops, good water works, efficient fire department, electric light plant, ice manufacturing and refrigerating company, many fine stores, several of them quite extensive concerns, 2 weekly newspapers, the Beaumont Enterprise, established 1880, and the Journal, established 1888 (both Democratic), and the division round house of the S. P. R. R., employing from 250 to 350 men, disbursing about $20,000 monthly in salaries. 1 new roller grist mill, a board of trade, lumber exchange, opera house, and many palatial residences. Several good hotels receive a liberal patronage. Some idea of the vast lumber interest here can be obtained, by considering that the annual production of the saw mills operating at this place, is over 120,000,000 feet of yellow pine, the planing mills over 90,000,000 feet, and the capacity of the shingle mill over 175,000 cypress shingles daily. The export lumber trade through the Sabine Pass, via. Beaumont, is now assured, the yellow pine lumber, alone exported, exceeds 150,000,000 feet annually; and as the Sabine Pass is deepened, the export will be greatly increased. Vast, unbroken forests of yellow pine extend for miles north, northeast and northwest of the town, from which the saw mills here can have an assured supply of logs for years to come. The assessed valuation of real and personal property is $2,000,000. The bonded indebtedness is only $18,000. Lumber, shingles, ice, meat, hides and live stock are the principle shipments. Tel., W. U. Divine Providence Convent.

CASTROVILLE, TEXAS.

Under the Direction of the Sisters of Divine Providence.

Established 1868 by Bishop Dubuis. REV. MARY FLORENCE, Superioress.

This Institution offers every advantage to young ladies who desire to receive a good and solid education.

The course of study is thorough and extensive, comprising all the English branches, German, French, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Painting, the General Principles of Bookkeeping, Plain Sewing, and every variety of Fancy Work.

Pupils are divided into Primary, Intermediate and Senior Departments. The discipline of the school is mild, firm and parental. As soon as they enter the Convent they become the children of the house, and the Sisters watch over their best interests with maternal solicitude. Great attention is given to the polite, lady-like deportment of the pupils.

Pupils of all denominations are received, and while the utmost care is taken in the religious instruction of the children of Catholic parents, there is no influence exercised over the religious opinions of others; but, for the sake of order, all the pupils are required to attend the religious exercises with decorum.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each. The first session begins with the first day in September, and the second with the first day in February. Principal Branch Institutions at San Antonio, Galveston, Palestine, Temple, Texas; Natchitoches and Alexandria, Louisiana.

and does a thriving business in five adjoining counties. It is the terminus of the C., R. I. & P. Ry survey. It contains Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist and Christian churches, good schools, a national bank with a capital of $50,000, a live weekly newspaper, the Round-Up, and 2 first-class hotels, the City and the Avenue; Masons and Oddfellows and other secret societies are creditably represented. A grain elevator, now in process of construction, will have a capacity of 30,000 bushels. The Farmers' Alliance roller mill, a prosperous enterprise, with a capacity of 100 bbls., and 3 cotton gins, add materially to the prosperity of the place, while the near completion of water works, the building of an extensive natatorium and fishery in this, one of the healthiest resorts in the Union, is the subject of much favorable comment. An artesian well, brick and tile works, and a union depot and marble yards are needed, and will probably add in the near future to Cisco's prosperity. Splendid deposits of fire clay, coal and building stone are found in abundance in the vicinity. The breeding of and dealing in cattle, horses and mules is fast becoming an important industry. The other exports are wheat, oats, cotton, wool and hides. Improved land in the vicinity ranges in price from $5 to $9 per acre; unimproved, $2 to $5. Stages daily to Brownwood, 55 miles, $4; to Breckenridge, 32 miles, $2. Tel., W. U. Exp., Pacific and W., F. & Co. Population, 1,500. G. S. Williams, postmaster.

COLORADO. In the central portion of Mitchell county, of which it is the judicial seat, is pleasantly located on the east bank of the Colorado river and on the T. & P. Ry, 359 miles northwest of Austin, 28 southwest of Sweet Water, 230 west of Fort Worth, 260 west of Dallas, 69 west of Abilene and 385 east of El Paso, and is justly famous for its extensive cattle and sheep interests, salt works and fruit and cereal productions. Until within the last few years salt wells were unknown, but are now among the principal industries. Within one year the Texas Salt Co. have come into possession of one hundred and thirty-five acres of salt land on the line of the Texas & Pacific Railway, adjoining Colorado City, on which five wells have been begun or finished, the most famous of these, drilled to a depth of 936 feet, pierces its way through one hundred and ten feet of solid salt rock, with a brine testing capacity of 25 per cent. Other wells are being rapidly sunk also, and the day seems fast approaching when the salt producing districts of the east will have a formidable rival in the sunny south, the only obstacle at present in the way being lack of transportational facilities, which will soon be remedied by an extension of the Texas system of the Santa Fe through Colorado, to connect with the Southern Kansas extension. Colorado contains 4 churches, 2 schools, 2 national banks, the First National, whose aggregate volume of business for the past year was $14,000,000, and the Colorado National, also a most worthy institution, with a large reserve fund, good hotels, of which the St. James and the Rendrebrook are both deservedly popular with the traveling public, 2 lumber yards, 2 livery stables and a soda water factory. The press is ably represented by a clever weekly, the Clipper. The city has also a well appointed opera house, with a seating capacity of 1,200, water works and a well equipped fire department. The agricultural resources of the county are flattering in all respects, and the incoming prospectors rarely leave without making a judicious investment in Mitchell county lands, which vary in price from $8 to $10 per acre. Stages daily to Mt. Blanco; fare, $10, and weekly to San Angelo; fare, $4, and Percheron, 98 miles; fare, $8.

Southern Germicide Cures Catarrh, Rheumatism, Asthma, Consumption, Kidney Troubles, Bronchial Affections, Dysentery, Diphtheria, Scrofula, Malarial Fever, Venereal Diseases, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipated Bowels, Chills and Fever, Lost Manhood, Female Diseases, Kills Tapeworm, never fails to cure Syphilis in its worst stages. Price, $3 per gallon. 721 Elm St., Dallas, Texas. Agents Wanted.

DALLAS. The judicial seat of county of same name, is a progressive city located on the Trinity river, 223 miles from Austin, 315 from Galveston, 515 from New Orleans and 660 from St. Louis. It was named in honor of Vice-President George M. Dallas, of Texas, and a more advantageous site for a city could not have been selected. It is on the east bank of the river in a timber belt; on rolling, hilly ground, supplying a natural drainage which makes the position a very healthy one. It has never had an epidemic of any kind, is far above the yellow fever level, and with its pure and bracing atmosphere, both summer and winter, is one of the most desirable residence cities in the Union. The first settlement was made here about the year 1840, by John Neely Bryan on the exact tract of land on which the city is now situated. Three years later, emigrants from Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Illinois came here to search for homes and found a river that knew not the sight of men save the red sons of the forest, who for long years had wandered by its margin, fished in its depths and laved in its limpid waters. In this magnificent wilderness of forest and prairie these adventurous pioneers set to work to make houses for themselves and to lay the foundations of fortune. How thoroughly they succeeded and to what an extent their anticipations have been fulfilled, is evidenced by the present prosperous condition of this "Emporium of Northern Texas."

The growth of Dallas for the past decade, and more especially during the past three years, has been unprecedented. And this remark applies to each of the several industrial departments which now flourish in its midst. From a little town of 700 population in 1870, it grew to 10,267 in 1880, to 31,000 in 1835, to 46,700 in 1887, and to-day the recent local census shows 61,-855. In full accord with this increase, the assessable values have swollen from $340,-000 in 1870, to $7,281,555 in 1885, to $21,-000,000 at present. This evidences a regular, solid, substantial progress in population and wealth. And there are logical reasons for this. In the first place, the city is in the very heart of one of the finest farming regions, with every variety of soil to suit the agriculturist. In the next place, the climatic conditions are such that the seasons are favorable for the agriculturist's crops, and for the health of himself and his family. Recognizing these things, it became only a matter of accessibility to the markets of the world that should make of the place the giant it is. To-day, therefore, there are railroads stretching out in a dozen different directions, so that direct connections are made with all points in the United States and Europe. There are the G., C. & S. Fe. Ry, M., K, & T. Ry, T. & P. Ry, H. T. & C. Ry, T. T. Ry, Dallas Pacific & Southeastern (projected line from Dallas to New Orleans), Dallas & Oak Cliff R. R., and D. Rapid Transit Ry. These facilities of transportation bring the cotton and the wheat and the corn and the oats to Dallas, as well as the other crops raised in this section. The immensity of this trade alone may be best appreciated by the statement that a circle drawn around the city, using a radius of one hundred miles, discloses thirty-four tributary counties which produce one-half the cotton and about one-half of all the cereals raised within the entire State. To properly handle this enormous business requires a large volume of money. Accordingly, capital has quickly recognized its field and opportunity, so that there are now in operation ten banks—six National and four private—which give a capital and surplus of something over $4,000,000, excluding one or two which are organizing.

Besides these there are some twenty-four land and loan, mortgage and trust companies, which annually furnish millions of dollars for farm and city improvement purposes. A half-dozen building and loan associations contribute most materially to supply the demand for residences. The building improvements in Dallas during the past twelve months amount to some $3,231,820, against $1,157,125 three years ago, and $1,274,805 two years ago, and $2,988,780 one year ago. There were more than 800 buildings erected last year, among these being some of the costliest stores and dwelling houses to be seen anywhere. The real estate transfers from August, 1888, to August, 1889, footed nearly $12,000,000. Dallas has some time since begun putting itself in readiness to realize the grand destiny that awaits in the near future the Metropolis of the Southwest. To this end a system of street, sewer and sanitary arrangements has been inaugurated and is being perfected. It now has some twenty-eight miles of rapid transit and street car track, against but six miles five years ago. The streets are being macadamized or paved with Bois d'Arc, the finest paving material known, with twenty-two miles already completed. Sidewalks in every direction are being laid with stone, cement, brick, etc. An unexcelled fire department and the Gamewell system of fire alarm, with ample water works, assure the citizens against any great conflagration, while all the leading insurance associations of this country and Europe have agencies here, and do a most satisfactory business. The police department, though not large, is thoroughly organized and effective, albeit no city is more orderly in every reepect than Dallas. City parks, hospitals, etc., along with numberless charitable and benevolent societies, add materially to the general sanitary condition of the city and the comfort of all classes.

Those several advances have induced capitalists to set on foot a series of manufacturing establishments so essential to permanent prosperity. The total number of these is 119, employing 2,200 operatives, some $3,100,000 capital, consuming of raw material $2,300,000, and giving an annual output of $4,000,000. Chief of these is the Dallas Cotton and Woolen Mills, established last year with a capital of $500,000, and having 26 looms with 11,000 spindles. The Mosher Manufacturing Co., founders and machinists, who make a specialty of architectural iron work for buildings, and contemplate to extend their already large establishment in order to satisfy the daily increasing demand. C. D. Kanady & Son, Burke Bros. and Harry Bros., manufacturers of galvanized iron cornice and all kinds of metal roofing, with an extensive trade, The Texas Wire and Iron Co., soliciting custom from all over the State. The Dallas Cooperage Co., manufacturers of cisterns, tanks, barrels, etc., running at full capacity. The Dallas Show Case Co., who have built up a trade in this and adjoining States, owing to the excellent workmanship of their show cases, bank, office and store fixtures. The Phœnix Planing Mill, Fetzer & Sons, proprs., one of the oldest mills in the State, manufacturers of sash, doors, blinds, etc., with a great demand in their particular line. Of agricultural implement houses may be mentioned the Weir Plow Co., manufacturers of the celebrated Weir Plow; The Tompkins Machinery and Implement Co; The Farmers' Alliance Exchange of Texas; Deer, Mansur & Co., H. W. Hubbard, Edward W. Taber and many others. Quite a number of these establishments carry also a full line of cotton gins, presses, etc. Among the manufacturers of cotton gins and general gin machinery The Van Winkle Gin and Machinery Co., and Munger Improved Cotton Machine Manufacturing Co., take the lead in the State. The Texas Cotton Press Co., J. S. Hunter, manager, are manufacturers of the well known "Boss" press. Wholesale houses and jobbers are extensively represented here. Sanger Bros., wholesale and retail dry goods, notions, etc., have a most extensive trade all over the State, and the Southwestern Agency for Labor-Saving Office Devices, H. S. Brewer, manager—the only house of its kind in the southwest—furnishes anything in the line of office devices. The King Manufacturing Co., a well introduced firm, is shipping oils and axle grease over a wide territory. H. B. Jones & Sons, proprietors of "Jo-He," an oil of curative powers, do a very successful and daily increasing business, and are receiving orders from almost every State in the Union. There are various other lines of manufactures and industries of importance, too plentiful, however, to enumerate, as scores of others are daily springing into being. Public structures rivaling those in the large eastern and western cities, now adorn this metropolis, and are constantly increasing in number and beauty. The social, literary and professional features are thus superbly represented, there being reckoned now 92 of these organizations. Of church buildings there are 28, representing all known denominations; one-half of these are for the colored people. But one of the best boasts of Dallas is its 20 public schools with their 40 white and 10 colored teachers, and 3,265 enrolled pupils. These schools are public and free to all children residents between 8 and 18 years of age, and embrace the primary, intermediate and high school departments. In addition to these there are fourteen private schools with some sixty more teachers. Art and musical and dramatic studios also prevail. St. Mary's Institute, the Rt. Rev. A. C. Garrett, D. D., LL. D., president, under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church, a school for young ladies, is a handsome and substantial stone structure recently erected, with all modern advantages, as electric lights, furnace heat, elevator, etc. The college has an able and complete faculty; The Ursuline Academy, under the direction of the Ursuline ladies, is a well-known institution that offers educational facilities of a high order. The Fort Worth and Dallas Business Colleges, F. P. Preuitt, president, are well patronized schools, where pupils receive a thorough commercial education by competent teachers; The same can be said of Hill's Business College. A club house, cost $85,000, an opera house, cost $75,000, a Merchants' Exchange $80,000, a city hall, cost $83,000, a State Farmers' Alliance $500,000, three hotel buildings to cost $740,000, etc. Public libraries and free reading rooms contribute largely to the educational advantages of the masses. Dallas is headquarters for the commercial travelers throughout Texas who come from all parts of the Union and representing every branch of trade. This latter advantage is most likely induced by the extensive and convenient facilities afforded by the many hotels of the city, and which are even now being trebled in number and capacity to equal the emergencies. Here, too, is the headquarters of the Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition, now in its fifth year of successful display. It covers 120 acres with all requisite buildings, such as a horticultural hall, a machinery hall, a general main building, a geological hall, etc., about 5 miles of gravelled drives and walks, stalls for thousands of head of live stock and all domestic animals, poultry, etc. The race track is unsurpassed by any in the south or north. These and other improvements have cost nearly $300,000. To Dallas, addition after addition is being made, and yet there seems an impossibility for improvement to keep pace with demand. Nor has this demand and conse-

The press is represented by 27 newspapers and journals, two of which, the Morning News and the Times-Herald, are dailies. The shipments, which have increased to an enormous extent within the last few years, comprise cotton, cattle, sheep, hogs, horses, lumber, grain, fruit, vegetables, and many others. GENERAL SOUTHERN AGENT

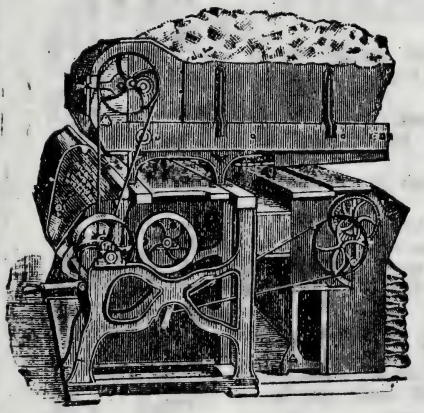
COTTON BLOOM LUMMUS GIN,

With Feeder and Condenser,



Attention is called to our new style of Roll Box with Adjustable Seed Board, which forms a roll that cannot be broken by any fair means.

The Brush is made up on a Steel Shaft, and is perfectly balanced before putting in the gin, and again balanced in the gin. We use but one brush belt to drive the brush, with a balance wheel of proper size and weight on the opposite end of the shaft, which gives a more positive speed and smoother motion, with less friction, cooler beams with less wear than is possible with any other method. Don't fail to look into the merits of this Gin before buying.

"JO-HE"

THE GREATEST DISCOVERY THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN,

Because it is Curing Diseases, both Acute and Chronic, that never before yielded to Remedies.

It is the pure oil from the fountain of nature. Relieves all pain from any cause by penetrating and removing the cause. There is no earthly use to let another poor child suffer and choke to death with Croup, for "JO-HE" relieves every case at once, if used TEN minutes before they expire, and no harm can possibly result from its free use, not even upon the youngest infant. It is saving thousands of lives when terrible diseases refuse to yield to anything else. Congestion, Croup, Diphtheria, Desperate Burns that would result in death otherwise in a few hours; Measles, after they have gone in and attacked vital parts, it has never failed in any of those terrible abnormal conditions to work miracles, when used as directed.

Never before was Rheumatism cured sound and well by removing the cause. Indeed, it removes all Inflamamtion, let it be inside or out, with that certainty and rapidity never known before. Its cures are permanent and solid, as thousands testify that have been snatched from the very jaws of death, as seemed, the last three years. It is the true family physician. Everyone should keep it on hand, for it will certainly save you, who tries it right, from long spells of sickness and suffering. These things seem impossible, but truth fears no inspection, but invites demonstration.

Send for free pamphlets and circulars, also, several hundred certificates from the most prominent people in many places it has been used and proven the great panacea and king of all remedies.

H. B. JONES,

P. O. L. Box 222.

What The Dallas News Has to Say:

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

DALLAS IS THE HEADQUARTERS FOR MODERN DENTISTRY.

The most extensive and best equipped dental offices and laboratories in the United States, covering more than 5,000 square feet, are those of DR. GEO. WILKINS, Dentist, whose business has grown to such an enormous extent, that he has opened up other offices at 803 Main St. and 804 Elm St. (cor. of Elm and Murphy), in order to be more convenient to a large number of his patients, and to give them more prompt attention.

He is well fitted up with all modern appliances for the performance of dentistry in all its branches, but gives special attention to saving the natural teeth and to crown and bridge work. Aching teeth and badly decayed ones—such as appear to be but shells and such as, in the hands of the ordinary dentist, fall victims to the forceps—he treats and fills so as to make them useful and durable. He inserts artificial teeth on any kind of plate in use—vulcanite, rubber, celluloid, rose pearl, gold, alluminum, patent alloys and continuous gum work. He also puts in teeth by the new method of putting them in without plates, by which the necessity and inconvenience of wearing a plate is obviated and no trouble is experienced from their falling down or getting loose. The method is new to the profession, he being the first dentist to introduce it into the great State of Texas. He employs quite a number of men, all graduates and skilled dentists. The following dental schools are represented in his offices: Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental Department of the Universities of Maryland, Michigan, and Vanderbilt, and the University of California. DENISON. This progressive and prosperous city is located in the northeastern portion of Grayson county, 3 miles from the Red river, which separates Texas from the Indian Territory. From its position at the entrance to the State it has received the name of the Gate City. It is on the line of the H. & T. C. and M., K. & T. Rys, 9 miles northeast of Sherman, the judicial seat, 40 northeast of Gainesville and 294 northeast of Austin. The city is rapidly increasing in wealth, population and importance, and is supplied with churches of the leading religious denominations, the St. Francis Xavier Academy, which has gained a widespread and enviable reputation, a high school and good public schools, a handsome and well-appointed opera house capable of seating 1,200, 2 banks, 2 daily newspapers, the Evening Journal and the Dispatch, 2 weekly newspapers, the Sunday Gazette and the Gate City Guide, gas works, water works, an efficient fire department, electric light, street cars and a motor line is in course of construction. Among the manufacturing interests are cotton gins and grist mills, a steam cotton compress, an ice factory, a foundry and machine shop, wagon factory, planing mill, etc. The railway car repair shops and bridge works located here pay out to employees over $150,000 every month. The city has at present a most important boom, a large number of tenement houses are being built, and the following industries will be in operation before the winter: a tannery, boot and shoe factory, canning factory, smelter and rolling mill for the manufacture of steel rails. There is plenty of water, and coal and ore are within easy reach, and the city has every prospect of doubling its population in a short time. The surrounding country is admirably adapted to fruit growing, and fruit, cotton and wheat are largely shipped. Tel., W. U. Exp., Pacific and W., F. & Co. Population, 13,000. L. L. EL PASO. So called because it is a natural outlet between the east and the west, owing to the low range of the Madras Mountains at this point, is a beautiful city of 12,000 inhabitants, situated on the east bank of the Rio Grande, 3,670 feet above sea level. Picturesquely located between Mt. Franklin on the American side and the Sierra Madras in Mexico, its fame as a health resort has made it the objective point for many wealthy tourists and travelers. El Paso is 646 west of Dallas, 655 from Fort Worth, 712 miles nortwest of Austin, 1,236 miles from the City of Mexico and 1½ miles from Cinnidad Juarez. Its history is a marvellous compendium of romance, its first inhabitants composed as they were of explorers, traders, soldiers, priests and the native Indians—each of whom sought this natural amphitheatre between the mountains, where the priests subsequently established (1620) the Mission of Our Lady of Guadalupe, and the same year erected a church. This was all confined to the west side of the river and the town — still primitively Mexican — was known until recently as Paso Del Norte. The east side was a desolate waste for some years. When Don J. M. Ponce de Leon received a grant of 2 laballarias —160 acres of land—which was cultivated until the breaking out of the Mexican war, when it became the center of military operations, but few Americans remaining until the close of the uprising. With 1880 came the advent of several lines of railway, and a new era of prosperity dawned upon the Pass, and it quickly grew from a primitive adobe village to a flourishing city of handsome business blocks, elegant residences, with wide streets and graceful winding avenues, with all the attributes of a first class city, as telephone and telegraph lines, street railways, electric lights, water works, fire department, a magnificent court house unsurpassed for beauty of architecture and massiveness in the State, 2 smelting works—the International and the Mexican Ore Co's—whose vast commercial importance can scarcely be over estimated. Of scarcely minor importance is the El Paso Ice and Refrigerating Co, the El Paso Foundry, the cornice works, the banks—El Paso National Bank, State National Bank of El Paso, First National and the Merchants' Private—all of which are prudently managed and have the confidence of the public. Five newspapers, the El Paso Times (Dem.), the Herald (Rep.), and Tribune (Dem.), with both daily and weekly editions, are ably managed, and enjoy a large and constantly increasing circulation. The El Valle Del Bravo and the Newsy (Spanish), are also issued daily and Sunday, and are extensively circulated among the Spanish and Mexican population on both sides of the river. The volume of business transacted in all departments of commerce is something enormous, which is especially applicable to the mailing departments of the postoffice and the custom house receipts, the wholesale grocers, grain merchants, produce dealers, live stock and mining interests, the Mexican art and curio stores, whose exports are international, the land agencies of Newman, Russell & Coles, P. A. Eakins, J. A. Brock, the International Investment Co., Pomeroy's Transfer Co, the Star Stables, the Vendome and Central hotels, which are unexcelled for cuisine and furnishings. El Paso's transportational facilities, for a town of its size, are unsurpassed, consisting of two international lines of street railways and five lines of railroads—the Southern Pacific, Texas & Pacific, Mexico Central, Santa Fe and G., H. & S. A., the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe having passenger depots located here. In addition to this, El Paso contains 7 churches, a public school, a library, Y. M. C. A., a training school, numerous assay offices, a military post (Fort Bliss), and a public park or plaza. The projected enterprises for the future welfare of the border city are artesian wells, for which bonds were recently issued, and the international dam for irrigation purposes, which, if constructed by the co-operation of both countries, Mexico and the United States, will submerge 26,000 acres between Anthony, in New Mexico, and El Paso, and successfully irrigate 200,000 acres at an estimated cost of $1,300,000. Its importance may be readily imagined when it is realized that such construction would settle at once and forever the feuds that have arisen from time to time between the two countries owing to the ever-shifting channels of the river, and no proper estimate of the city's population could be even approximated should the governments interested cause the irrigation of the Rio Grande Valley, but certain it is that in such an event El Paso would quickly take its proper place among the great cities of Texas. Although, to all appearance, the lands are sterile, such is not the case in reality, as fruits, vegetables and cereals can be grown most successfully, grapes especially being par excellence, from which a superior quality of wine is manufactured and extensively shipped throughout the Union. The surrounding mountains are rich in minerals, and from its advantageous position as the gateway of Mexico, its progress within the next few years will be watched with much interest by rival cities. The new custom house now under construction will cost the government $150,000, and when completed will better enable the custom house officials to transact the enormous volume of traffic at this most important port of entry. FORNEY. A town on the T. & P. Ry., in Kaufman county, 244 miles northeast of Austin, 16 northwest of Kaufman, the county seat, and 21 east of Dallas. Was settled in 1873, and is principally known for its hay and cotton products; of the former, 20,000 tons are produced from the vast tracts of rich black lands in the vicinity, thousands of tons being pressed in the fields and immediately shipped to all southern points, the remainder, held for a rising market, being stored in immense barns, some 20 in number, and the property of enterprising merchants of the place; 3 cotton gins—the Kincaid, Crawford and McNabb—handle from 6,000 to 8,000 cotton bales annually. Hay, corn, oats and other cereals do exceedingly well. Considerable trading is also done in Bois d'Arc blocks, ties and posts. Good water is abundant. The indebtedness is at the minimum. A new public school, a bank and several new stores are under way, and the future outlook for Forney is resplendent with bright promises. The best land in Texas, or the Union, may be obtained for from $30 to $40 per acre. It has one first-class hotel, the Forney House, Southern Methodist and Baptist churches and 2 weekly newspapers, the Register and the Tribune. Hay, corn, oats, wheat, cotton and cotton seed are shipped. Population, 1,300. Exp., Pacific. Dr. E. P. Chambless, postmaster.

FORT WORTH. Is in the central portion of Tarrant county, of which it is the judicial seat, 198 miles northeast of Austin, 253 southwest of Texarcana, 95 southwest of Denison and 89 northwest of Waco. Its altitude is 641 feet. According to the best information, Mr. G. P. Farmer was the first settler in this immediate vicinity. On coming with one Edmund S. Terril, he camped in the live oak grove near the junction of the Texas & Pacific and Fort Worth & Rio Grande Railways, southwest of the city, in June, 1849. Brevet-Major Arnold, in charge of the Second Dragoons of United States troops, a few days previously had established a frontier post in a valley about 150 yards west of the present Holloway place, and near the race track and old cemetery. The post was one of a cordon then recently designated te extend from Red River southwestwardly to the Rio Grande, as a protection against Indians and bands of marauders from Mexico. Major Arnold, on arriving, named the post "Fort Worth," after Gen. Wm. J. Worth, who had distinguished himself in making the first advance on the City of Mexico in Sept., 1847, and was then in command of the district. The county was organized in the spring of 1850, and named after Brigadier-General E. H. Tarrant, who, in the spring of 1841, commanded the brigade district, composed of Cass, Bowie, Red River, Lamar and Fannin counties. During the four years of its occupancy Major Arnold had retained the principal command, being relieved by Major Merril in '53, shortly before the abandonment. Major Arnold met his death at the hands of the surgeon of the post under peculiarly distressing circumstances, and his remains now rest in the old cemetery. The first district court held in Tarrant county was presided over by ex-Governor O. M. Roberts.

Fort Worth was first incorporated by a special act, approved Feb. 17,'73. The T. & P. R. R. (completed here in '76 and extended towards the Pacific Slope in '81) has its shops in this city; it is the terminus and headquarters of the Ft. W. & D. C. and Ft. W. & R. G. Rys, started respectively in '82 and '86; the M. K. & T., extending now to the coast, reached Ft. Worth in '81, and the G., C. & S. Fe R. R., at present a part of the A., T. & K. system, also came in the same year. The Ft. W. & N. O. R. R., now under the management of the H. & T. C., was built in '85. The St. L., A. & Texas R. R. in '88 made Ft. Worth a terminus. The Ft. W. & Albuquerque R. R. is projected, with so much of the same as to reach the great coal fields northwest of Ft Worth to be completed in the near future. Thus there are over eleven outlets, the major portion of which are along important trunk lines. There are thirty-two miles of electric street car lines in operation, and the city has about forty-eight miles of macadmized streets. The renowned artesian wells number 168, and the drainage—the town being built on limestone hills, 120 feet above the south side of the river with 42 miles of splendid sewerage and fine natural drainage—is above reproach. The Holly water works system supplies water from the blue stream of the "Clear Fork" of the beautiful Trinity river. There are 8 National banks with a combined capital of $2,600,000 Not considering the enormous amount of improvements going on (which is perhaps more than that in any other town in the State), the public buildings in number, size, and style, rank with those of any city of its age in the country. Of the 17 churches, some are patterns of magnificent structure, and the Board of Trade, Club and Library buildings are among the best in the State. Fort Worth built the first Spring Palace in the world, and of its unique history and grandeur too much cannot be said. Gen. R. A. Cameron, immigration commissioner for the Ft. W. & D. C. R. R. Co., conceived the idea early in 1889. The object was to have a building dedicated to the exhibition of all the products of the State. The contracts for the construction were finally awarded March 11th, the building was turned over to the decorators April 22d, and on May 29th, the opening day, the formal ceremonies were presided over by President Paddock, and Gov. Ross represented the State. The success of the Spring Palace was assured from the beginning, and its grand re-opening from season to season will be hailed with more and more intelligent appreciation. (See illustration, p. 469.)

The schools of the city are justly a part of the foundation for its boast and pride. The public schools, under the liberal and progressive system of the city and State, are almost sufficient in the line of education for mention; but the other institutions cannot pass without notice. The Fort Worth University is a mammoth institution, located just west of the city; its great endowments, and being under the splendid management of Rev. A. A. Johnson, A.M., D.D., its president, assisted by an able faculty for all the different departments, will render it not inferior to any college or university this side of the Mississippi river. The Ft Worth Business College, Professor F. P. Preuitt, President, with a faculty ofexperienced teachers, is an institution well known all over the State. It offers to pupils rare advantages for securing a practical education. The professor has recently purchased the Lawrence Commercial College in Dallas, and will henceforth manage both colleges under the name of Fort Worth and Dallas Business Colleges. The Warren Female Institute is one that has risen by local enterprise and high merit to a level with the best of its kind in the southwest. The Young Ladies' Academy, Miss A. C. Conkling, principal, offering educational advantages of a high order. The St. Ignatius Academy, a recently completed and handsome building, with a large annual attendance of pupils, and the St. Stanislaus school, both under the munificent patronage of the Roman Catholic church, are well known and appreciated. The large and well appointed hospital, formerly belonging to the Missouri Pacific Ry Co., now so excellently managed by one of the orders of the Roman Catholic church, is an institution for this immediate section whose value cannot be easily set down. Many of the factories and industries should have especial description; but such would require too extended a notice, and we can only now group the same here. They include gas-works; an arc electric light plant; 5 grain elevators (capacity 850,000 bu); 4 roller mills (capacity 1,500 bbls per day); a stock-yard (capacity 5,000 head of cattle daily and 2,000 head of hogs, which can be doubled by slight additions when necessary); stove foundry; moss collar facory; an iron foundry; a wind mill and pump and several large agricultural implement houses; boot and shoe, jute bagging, cracker excelsior awning and tent, baking powder, small waggon (which is developing to a large one for wagons and carriages), and woven wire and cot factories; a tannery is in successful operation; a woollen mill is started; the only granite roofing company in the southwest is here; and 39 jobbers are also here. A lithographing and printing establishment, and rubber and metal stamp works are here, both having an extensive trade all over the State. The catalogue of the secret orders and benevolent societies comprises a full and varied list of all such as are known to modern civilization; the more prominent ones are in a remarkable flourishing condition. The history of the press of the city illustrates further the great progress of the place; and, besides several successful journals and periodicals, the Ft. Worth Gazette, the creature entirely of home efforts, now stands out as one of the best dailies in the State. The taxable values in 1889 were double the amount of those in 1888 (and that not including the improvements after January 1st, representing an outlay in cash of over $1,500,000); and, though the bonded indebtness will be increased for public improvements, the rate of taxation is being lowered by reason of the augmentation in values. A conservative estimate would place the population in 1889 at a fraction over 30,000; and the death rate for six months ending July 1, 1888, was 1.58, being the lowest of any city in the United States in proportion to the number of inhabitants. Few realize the vast and growing territory tributary to this city, the developing riches of which ought alone to make it one of the most prominent cities of this mighty State. In this connection it is proper to mention that abundant coal, the desideratum in the establishing of manufactures, is about to be laid down here at less cost than in any other town in the west. One of the most interesting features connected with the growth of Fort Worth has been the selection of the city as headquarters for the Texas and Pacific Coal Company, the richest mining company in the State. The mines and property of the company are in Eastland, Palo Pinto and Erath counties. The officers reside in Fort Worth, which fact assists to advertise the place, as the stockholders of the company are numerous and of the wealthiest and best known business men of the east. The officers are, President, R. D. Hunter, St. Louis; Vice-President and Treasurer, Edgar L. Marston, New York city; and S. Mims, Secretary. The company has been the means of lowering the price of fuel in Texas, something the citizens can well appreciate. It is impossible here to go into detail as to all the advantages of this city, yet a comparison can be seen, by reference to the notice of the place in the edition of 1884, of its sure and rapid growth. While the stimulus as seen in the avenues of commerce and the branches of industry cannot be dwelt upon here, yet the statement is reasonable that from Fort Worth's magnificent natural advantages and grand efforts, with her brilliant record, the prospect for her is most alluring. The Western Union Telegraph and the Pacific, Texas and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express companies have offices here. Mrs. Belle Burchill, postmaster.

EVOLUTION and TRUE LIGHT

Is the title of a book now about ready for press. It teaches the location of the Garden of Eden, how Christ fed the multitude on the mountain and produced the wine at the wedding feast, no miracle—teaches who committed the unpardonable sin, and what it was—teaches where, when and how you are to be born again—teaches how a tree gets its growth—shows what Christ meant when he said, "If the blind lead the blind, and they all fall in the ditch;" gives you the true definition of ditch; gives you the outlet to the ocean—teaches what the spirit is—it instructs you in regard to the Seven Pointers, and winds up with all men in the Garden of Eden, or New Jerusalem, or Land of Canaan, and shows all to be on the present earth. I claim this is the great comfort that is to come.

BY W. W. DUNN.

GALVESTON. This flourishing city, the judicial seat of county of same name, is situated on Galveston Island, 50 miles southeast of Houston and 216 southeast of Austin. From its location it is popularly known as the Island City, and it is the leading commercial city and port on the west gulf coast. Galveston island, which first became known to the Spaniards about 1525, is an irregular and peculiar sandy formation extending along the coast northeast to southwest about 35 miles, and separated from the mainland by Galveston bay. When Texas was a province of Mexico this island was a mere sandy reef without human habitation, and long before it was thought of for commercial purposes it became the rendezvous of one of the most notorious outlaws and pirates of modern times. Jean Lafitte took possession of the island in 1817, where he ruled supreme, and whence he committed his numerous and still famous depredations on the high seas until early in 1821, when the brig Enterprise, under command of Lieutenant Kearney, arrived in the offing with demands from the United States government that Lafitte abandon the island at once, which was done without resistance, and the future city of Galveston was laid out in the spring of 1838. Consulting reliable authority, it is gathered that in 1838 this embryo city had thirty or forty houses and an estimated population of 1,000. From this period its growth has been gradual but sure to its present dimensions and importance. In all respects Galveston has assumed the proportions of a thriving maritime city, with churches, custom house and other public buildings which compare favorably in cost and style of architecture with any city of the same size in the country. Hitherto a great drawback to its growth has been the obstructions of the bar at the entrance of the harbor. The south channel separating Galveston and Pelican islands, and flowing out and around the eastern portions, forms the bar-bor of Galveston. In this channel and the inner roads the water measures 30 feet. After rounding the point and about 5 miles southeast of the city, the water begins to shoal and forms what is known as the outer bar. This bar, some 500 yards in width, consisting of a deposit of sand held in solution, with an average depth of 14 feet of water at mean low tide, is the obstruction to the harbor. The United States government has, however, undertaken the work of deepening the same, and considerable progress in the direction indicated has recently been made. The commerce of Galveston is very large, as it is the recognized outlet for an extensive and very productive portion of the State. Enormous quantities of cotton, grain, hides, wool and other articles of export, pass through this port every year, annually aggregating in value $30,000,000. In round numbers the yearly receipts of cotton will foot up 800,000 bales; total exports ef cotton yearly to foreign countries—chiefly to Great Britain—480,000 bales, and exported annually coastwise and to domestic ports, 300,000 bales. The number of foreign vessels annually visiting Galveston is about 250, representing a total tonnage of 175,000, besides nearly 500 vessels engaged in the coast trade. Very few cities of its eize have as good banking facilities. There are the First National, Island City Savings, National Bank of Texas, Texas Banking and Ins. Co., Adoue & Lobit, Ball, Hutchings & Co., and W. L. Moody & Co. It has been estimated that the annual amount of exchange sold by these institutions reaches nearly $50,000,000, and the annual disbursements $150,000,000.

Galveston has been making giant strides within the recent past as a commercial and manufacturing center. Ten years ago the smoke from factories and mills was conspicuous only by reason of its absence. Now the city is dotted by tall chimneys, which show the location of factories and mills of many kinds, and furnish employment to hundreds of industrious bread winners. The sleepy feeling once pervading the moist climate of the coast has gone glimmering with other dreamy influences of the past, and the city of to-day is in keeping with the advancement of the latter portion, whose motto is onward and upward. Within the past few years the progress of the city in the way of manufacturing industries has been rapid, and the wide-awake and pushing sentiment, which has succeeded the former "natural advantages" idea, is bringing Galveston rapidly to the front as a great industrial point. During the past six months a number of enterprises have been set on foot, and within the ensuing year all of them will be in successful operation and afford many persons an opportunity of earning their daily bread, which in many instances does not exist now. Conspicuous among its commercial and manufacturing interests are 5 cotton presses, with a combined storage capacity of 140,000 bales and power to compress 6,000 bales per day; a bagging factory, with a capital stock of $500,000; 2 large ice factories; flour mills, with an invested capital of $250,000, and annual producing capacity of 360,000 barrels; 2 cotton seed oil mills, manufacturing 165 barrels of oil per day; 47 wholesale business houses, with an aggregate capital of $20,000,000; a finely equipped system of marine ways for repairing vessels, costing $75,000 to construct; 2 steam bakeries, a cracker factory, planing mills, foundries and machine shops, barrel factory, trunk factory, carriage and wagon works, soap factory, steam boot and shoe factory, bottling works, 2 extensive printing and lithographing houses, cement pipe manufactory, asphalt works, and many others made apparent in the full business list following this sketch. Galveston's facilities for communication with all sections are ample and continually being enlarged. The first one to recognize the future importance of this gulf city was the sagacious Charles Morgan, whose steamer Columbia touched here in 1837—the pioneer vessel in a line of palatial steamers plying between this port and New Orleans and other points east and west. The Houston Direct Navigation Co., under the same management, run a line of tugs and barges between Houston and Galveston, connecting at the former place with the railway system of the State. The Gulf div. of the I. & G. N. R. R., the Mexican National R. R., and the G., C. & S. Fe Ry run to this point, and, with their connections, affording means of transportation to all parts of the United States. As a resort for both summer and winter, no place has greater attractions than Galveston. Its equable climate, its freedom from epidemics for the past 15 years, and the rigid sanitary means enforced, make it one of the healthiest cities in the world, as statistics will prove. Chief among its attractions for pleasure-seekers are its wealth of fish and oysters, crab, shrimp, plover, duck, etc., tropical fruits, magnificent surf

URSULINE CONVENT For Young Ladies, GALVESTON, TEXAS.

This Institution, founded in 1847 by the venerable Archbishop ODIN, of New Orleans, and first Bishop of Galveston, is under the direction of the Ursuline Sisters, whose reputation in educating youth is world-wide, and whose object, never lost sight of, is the adorning of their pupils' minds with knowledge, and the training of their hearts to virtue. The pupils are formed to habits of order, cleanliness, and polite manners, and are never permitted to go beyond the reach of a watchful but maternal superintendence, whose vigilance secures the preservation of morals, and the cheerful observance of the rules. No influence is exercised over the religious belief of the students; yet, for the sake of order, all are at times required to assist with respect at the exercises of Divine Worship.

The buildings are convenient and spacious, the grounds are ample, the site beautiful and in the most pleasant part of the Island, and all the surroundings such as to promote health and happiness. The Institution is chartered under the title of "URSULINE ACADEMY," and authorized to confer degrees and grant diplomas.

bathing free from dangerous undertow, and its wide, hard beach running 30 miles down the island, forming the finest boulevard in the world. Situated in the very apex of the gulf, with the best harbor on the coast of Texas, and an open highway to the sea and with all the most favorable auxiliaries to prosperity a splendid future for this city is assured. The government of Galveston is vested in a mayor and board of aldermen (elected bi ennially). The city has efficient police and fire departments, and a capital system of water works for fire purposes, the pipe distribution covering the business portion of the city. Eleven artesian wells furnish a fresh water supply for the entire city. Its religious and educational advantages alone serve to mark it as a refined, progressive city, and almost every known secret or benevolent organization, both white and colored, are here represented. The city enjoys the benefits derived from excellent gas and electric light works, has 2 opera houses and numerous public halls and amusement resorts, 37 miles of street railway, 2 handsome public parks, a fine driving park and a race course, a public library, 21 hotels, telephone exchange, a new city hall costing $45,000, the finest cotton exchange building in the State, and all the other attributes of a first-class city. The press is represented by the Galveston News (daily and weekly), leading paper of the State; established 1842, company incorporated 1881, A. H. Belo & Co., publishers; A. H. Belo, president; R. G. Lowe, vice-president; T. W. Dealey, secretary and treasurer. The enterprising management of this great paper have the most commodious and complete newspaper office in the South. The building is a massive three-story, fire proof structure, designed and arranged with especial reference to issuing a paper like the Galveston News. In every department attention has been given to the matter of accommodation and comfort of the workers on the paper. New presses, new type and a new outfit generally are on hand, making the News the handsomest paper in the South. The other papers are the Evening Tribune, and the Opera Glass (Sunday). The population, according to the census of 1880, was 22,253, and it is now believed to exceed 40,000. Tel., W. U. Exp,, Pacific, Texas and W., F. & Co. Thomas W. Gary, postmaster.

GEORGETOWN. The present terminus of the G. branch I. & G. N. R. R., in the central portion of Williamson county, of which it is the judicial seat, is a flourishing, incorporated town, beautifully situated among the hills, 29 miles northeast of Austin, and 10 miles north of Ronnd Rock, where the branch meets the main line. The San Gabriel river flows by the place, but is not utilized here as a water power, although, by daming, excelent abundance of water power could be obtained. For 10 miles south and ten miles north of the town, inexhaustible quarries of stone abound, while stretching away to the east and southeast are mile after mile of rich, undulating prairie, producing cotton, corn, fruits, and affording excellent pasturage for live stock. The town contains Episcopal, Baptist, Christian, Methodist and 2 Presbyterian churches, high schools, grammar schools, and the Southwestern University (Methodist), 2 banks, 2 planing mills, steam grist mills and cotton gins, 1 flour mill, a weekly newspaper, the Williamson County Sun (Dem.), and an opera house. The assessed valuation is $1,500,000, while the bonded indebtedness is only $32,000. First-class water works supply the town with good water, while medicinal water, containing the best mineral properties of any in the State, flows in abundance from 8 or 10 springs. The town is surrounded by attractive, picturesque scenery, rarely seen elsewhere. Vast forests extend north and west. It is a place of refinement and culture. The shipments comprise cotton, grain, hides, wool, lumber and live stock. Tel., W. U. Exp., Pacific. Population, 4,000. Mrs. Belle P. Chreitzberg, postmaster.
